

MATTER OF MONEY PURELY PERSONAL

Secretary of State Bryan Tells
Why He Can't Live on $12,000 a Year.

OBLIGATIONS TO BE MET

These Will Absorb More Than Half His Salary as Cabinet Officer.

Lincoln, Neb., August 17.—William J. Bryan, in a signed statement, made public through The Monthly Commoner yesterday, says it is not a question of whether a Cabinet officer can live on $12,000 a year, but rather one of whether he can subsist on that sum—a matter purely personal. In part, his statement follows:

"When I announced that I found it necessary to supplement my official income, and that I would turn to the lecture platform as the most natural, as well as an entirely legitimate, means of earning what additional income I needed, the question was at once asked, 'Why is Mr. Bryan unable to live upon a salary of $12,000 a year?'"

"I thought to have occurred to any one who was tempted to ask the question that the question is not whether a Cabinet officer could live on $12,000 a year, if he had nothing to consider except the expenses attendant upon living in Washington, but whether he could add the expense of official life to his other expenses and meet them all out of his salary."

"Every man who has reached a post where he is likely to be appointed to a high office has assumed obligations which cannot be suspended when he enters office. My obligations to church, charity, education and for my insurance cannot be discontinued. They amount to more than $6,800 per year, and these are about the largest, for by no means all, and will absorb more than half the salary which I receive."

"No Complaint of Salaries." "I have not complained of the salaries of Cabinet officers, neither would I advocate an increase, although the position of Secretary of State carries with it more entertainment than any other position in the Cabinet because of its relation to the outside world, and my acceptance of that position throughout the country and throughout the world has increased the amount of entertaining expected of me. But there is no rule requiring a Cabinet officer to compress his expenditures within the salary limit, and no criticism has been offered heretofore when Cabinet officers have drawn upon their private incomes to meet their expenses when those expenses have exceeded the amount drawn from the government. I have planned to forego for the next four years any additions to my accumulations, and I do not regard it as a sacrifice to do so. I so much appreciate the opportunity that the President has given me to join him in the service, that I am ready to forego the country that I would gladly hold the position which I now occupy even if I do so it were necessary to use a part of the money laid aside as a protection against old age."

"Mr. Bryan devotes nearly three pages of the Commoner to a resume of the work of President Wilson's Cabinet, reserving the last mention for the Department of State. He says: 'I have been invited to become a member of the President's official family, and as his representative in one of the most important departments of the government I have brought into contact with international problems. As a member of the Cabinet, too, I enjoy the opportunity of participating in the discussion of such problems as the President sees fit to bring before that body.'"

"If I were compelled to choose between the service that I could render as a journalist and the service which I can render as one of the President's advisers, I would feel justified in preferring the latter to the former, but as there is no necessary conflict between the two positions I am glad to perform the duties attending the latter. Relative to the Department of State, he says: 'The country seems to be pleased with the policies which the President has put forth through the State Department, as well as in the other departments of the government. Mr. Bryan expresses the belief that the move toward world peace is progressing and that the President's effort to preserve peace in Mexico will

He was badly wounded at Spotsylvania when he was struck by a horse and cart. He was a member of his home when the accident occurred.

The horse fell, and afterwards became unmanageable, overturning the carriage and breaking Mr. Roden's thigh in one place and arm in two places, and causing other internal injuries.

Presentation Made by Cape Fear Council Jr. O. U. A. M.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Fayetteville, N. C., August 17.—At the Fayetteville school on the east side of the Cape Fear, one of the most enjoyable affairs of the summer took place when a flag raising and Bible presentation by Cape Fear Council, No. 15, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, and a picnic occupied the whole day. A. H. Watson, past commander, began the speech-making. R. P. Hooton, on the principles of the Junior Order, A. M. Bator, respectively, received the flag and the Bible on behalf of the school. Q. K. Nimocks also made an address. The school children's singing was an inspiring feature of the ceremonies.

On the same day the township Sunday school around Centre Baptist Church, irrespective of denomination, united in holding a picnic at Centre Church, twelve miles east of Fayetteville. The singing, which was under the leadership of Mr. Royall, of Godwin, was a feature. Madison McIntire, of Godwin, presided. Speakers who addressed the crowds were Rev. Eugene Olive, Centre Church's pastor; Patton R. Hall and W. B. Malloy, the last two of Fayetteville.

DOES NOT LIKE TO RIDE ON TRAIN.

R. G. Roberts Drives as Far as Possible on Long Trip.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., August 17.—R. G. Roberts, who lives but a few miles from Evinston, in Campbell County, who is fifty-seven years of age, does the day or two ago Mr. Roberts was called to Buena Vista to see a daughter who had taken a train to this city, instead of taking a train at Evinston, declaring he did so to keep away from the train as much as possible.

While here Mr. Roberts stated that he had not been on a train since he was ten years of age, when he went by train to Lynchburg. When his train arrived he showed that he was nervous, and he told friends that he was not making the trip but for the illness of his daughter.

COPELY TO NOTE DELIVERED BY AND

President Wilson and Secretary
Bryan Still Waiting to Hear From Mexico.

TAKE MORE HOPEFUL VIEW

Representatives of Constitution-
alists Watch Developments
With Keen Interest.

Washington, August 17.—The Mexican situation continued apparently unchanged today, with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan awaiting the Huerta government's reply to the preliminary note delivered by President Wilson's personal representative, John Lind, to Mexican Foreign Minister Gumbert, in the position of the United States. Mr. Bryan let it be known that he expected no reply for a day or two. The fact that Envoy Lind had established relations with the Huerta government through Minister Gumbert, following reported declarations which almost threatened deportation of President Wilson's personal representative, leads officials here to take a more hopeful view of the situation.

Representatives of the Constitutionalists are watching developments with keenest interest. If Huerta is disposed to accept that part of the American proposal looking to elections, that element may come into these negotiations.

The Mexican Constitution prohibits the holding of general elections during a period of insurrection, to comply with President Wilson's desire for a free and fair election something would be done to induce the Constitutionalists to consent to a truce.

So far, it is stated officially, the administration here has had no communication directly with the Constitutionalists.

The opening of telegraphic communication between Juarez and the city of Chihuahua was announced to the State Department today by receipt of a message from the American consul confirming the previous report from the consulate at Juarez of the safety of the American Hulse family, whose perilous situation led Senator Penrose to address the Senate last Friday.

BREAK IN WATER PIPE RESTORED

Lynchburg Citizens Kept in Fear of Fire Until Damage to Conduit Is Repaired.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Lynchburg, Va., August 17.—After standing in dread for thirty-six hours of a serious fire, with the water supply cut off from the city, during which time a third of the city or more was without fire protection of any sort, relief came this afternoon when the break in the thirty-inch wooden pipe was restored and the pipes were again filled.

The trouble was due to the conduit collapsing because of this morning when the water was drawn off Friday night to repair a small break. This was due, it is thought, to an air valve failing to work, and this formed a vacuum in the pipe.

Residents have been without water since last night in the lower levels of the city, and in the upper levels since the night of September 19. This is a big plant in the city was closed down for half a day yesterday by reason of the lack of water. The city gets its water supply in a thirty-inch main from the Federal River, a distance of 22½ miles, and this is the first time since that has occurred in the wooden pipe since it was put in commission five years ago.

Arrangements are being made for the entertainment of the annual convention of the Virginia Christian Missionary Society at the Virginia Christian College, which is to be held at the college on September 23. This is the annual meeting of the Disciples of Christ of Virginia, and about 300 delegates are expected to be in attendance. The college board will be given entertainment in the college dormitories.

The Lynchburg Country Club will hold a golf tournament on the Western Links on Labor Day, during which a handsome loving cup will be contested for.

While surf bathing at Ocean View on Friday, Joseph L. Pleasant, of this city, broke his leg and he was removed to the Federal River, where his wife has gone to join him. Mr. Pleasant is one of the best-known business men of the city.

The second annual Labor Day program at the Y. M. C. A. island playground this year promises to be large. A number of baseball games will be played, some of them being by teams representing various fraternal orders of the city.

The Sunday school of Cabell Street Methodist Church, Danville, will hold its annual outing at Miller Park, here, on September 3. Twelve hundred people are expected to come on the excursion.

Frank Padgett, who was located here for several years training horses, and who is well-known to Virginia horsemen, died several days ago in Indianapolis, and being due to an accident sustained while racing.

M. R. Hickson, a prominent young business man of Lynchburg, who resides in this city, has been elected a school trustee for the Brookville district, succeeding Powhatan Cox, whose term has expired.

The police raided poker rooms in eleven streets this morning, when seventeen men were found in a room, seven of whom were engaged at a game of poker. The rest of the occupants of the room were either drunk or drinking. One of the men, a white man, is charged with operating the resort.

Henry Jones, colored, is being held here under suspicion of being the negro who shot the chief of police of Gordonsville some weeks ago. The negro was drunk at the time of his arrest. He is being held for identification.

Both Governors
Are After Details
of Thaw Escape

Mr. Barnes bases his approval entirely on the inadequacy of the line given the assembly to study the report of the Thaw committee, and that he emphasizes his conclusion that Mr. Glynn now undoubtedly is the acting Governor.

Some of Mr. Glynn's partisans contrast the Barnes statement to be tantamount to serving notice that political opinions are not expected to sway in any degree the attitude of the Republican Senators in the trial.

There are seventeen Republican Senators, and only nine votes in favor of Governor Sulzer would prevent impeachment. This assumes that all the justices of the Court of Appeals and all the Senators will take part in the trial.

PLOT AGAINST KITCHENER

Egyptian Youth Said to Be Responsible for Assassination Plans.

London, August 17.—A plot to assassinate Lord Kitchener has been revealed at Oxford University, according to the Daily Express. The paper states that the Foreign Office received the information that the Egyptian youth, until recently, was an undergraduate at one of the principal colleges at Oxford, but whose name and history have been kept secret, has avowed his intention of causing the death of Lord Kitchener through the medium of an Egyptian nationalist society.

Sir Edward Grey informed the House of Commons that the matter in the hands of the political branch of Scotland Yard.

FOR AND AGAINST NEW COMMITTEE

Chairman Henry Will Hear
Arguments by Suffragists and Antis Next December.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Washington, August 17.—That the battle royal of the suffragists and the antis will be staged in Washington next December was made certain today, when it was announced that Chairman Robert L. Henry would hear the arguments against a woman suffrage committee in the House, as well as those for it.

In a statement issued here today the antisuffragists claim that President Wilson and his administration are cold towards the votes for women question. It says:

"The refusal of the President of the United States only a few days ago to deliver an address to the meeting of suffragists here may be taken as sufficient indication of the coldness of the administration toward votes for women. The most determined attacks of the suffragists, their most spectacular feats, their greatest political activity and their most incessant work have all been directed toward influencing the national legislators in Washington. That they have failed to produce any tangible results so far, it is emphatic proof that Congress, representing all the States of the Union, refuses to fly in the face of the coldness of that majority of States which have refused to grant women the equal franchise."

TO BE BURIED IN KNOXVILLE.

Body of Woman Murdered by Husband Being Taken to Former Home.

Charlotte, N. C., August 17.—Robert T. Baker, of Washington, D. C., spent the night in this city, having in charge the body of Mrs. Nance, who was killed by her husband at Hot Springs, Tenn. The body was being taken to Knoxville, Tenn., former home of the deceased, for interment. Before her marriage, the woman was a Miss Nance, a member of the Methodist Church of Tennessee. It is reported that Nance had attempted to draw money from the bank belonging to his wife, and this is supposed to be the motive for his taking her life.

Mr. Baker denied the report from Greenville, S. C., that Nance had ever been insane or charged with insanity or that he had ever been confined in a sanatorium.

CAUCUS CALL ISSUED

Republicans Will Elect New National Congressional Committee.

Washington, August 17.—A call was issued yesterday to Republican Senators and Representatives to caucus in the House chamber Tuesday night, August 19, to elect a new national Republican congressional committee.

The new committee soon afterward will meet and choose its chairman and its members. Representative Charles D. Burke, of South Dakota, acting chairman of the congressional committee, has served in that position since the death of Mr. McMichael.

Mr. Burke, who is not a member of the House, has been mentioned as possible successor to Mr. McMichael. The caucus also will consider co-operation with the Republican National Committee on campaign work.

FAMOUS COUNTESS DEAD

She Commits Suicide While Riding in Train.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]
Paris, August 17.—St. Petersburg dispatches report the tragic death of the beautiful Countess Tarnowska, who, three years ago, was sentenced at Venice to eight years' imprisonment for plotting with her lover the death of his rival for her affections.

The Countess was subsequently released from imprisonment, was found dead in a railway carriage between St. Petersburg and Kiev. The countess was found in a locked compartment of a first-class carriage when the train reached Smolensk. She was hanging by a towel from the luggage rack, and a large sum of money and valuable jewels found on her person, the authorities say, indicated that the woman was not murdered.

EAGER TO DEFEND HIMSELF.

McDermott Will Challenge Truth of McMichael's Story.

Washington, August 17.—That Congressman James T. McDermott, of Illinois, will challenge the truth of practice, is the latest allegation of his former protégé, Isaac H. McMichael, who has told the House lobby investigation committee that McDermott's alleged connection with two lobbyists, the prediction to-day of friends of the Illinois Congressman.

McMichael will resume his testimony tomorrow morning and will be subjected to further cross-examination. A "jumble of lies" is the terse characterization Congressman McDermott gave McMichael's story, in talking to close advisers of the House.

McMichael, forbidden to talk fully in advance of his prospective appearance on the stand, can scarcely contain his impatience to present his side of the case.

He never did that man an injury in my life; why he should make such ridiculous statements is beyond me," McDermott apparently indignant McDermott to-day.

Fire in Omaha.
Omaha, Neb., August 17.—A loss of $200,000 and three firemen injured was the result of a fire that broke out in the business district to-night, which for a time threatened the whole block. The fire was the result of spontaneous combustion in the rear of an electrical and gas fixture firm's building.

Temperatures Will Be Near Season Average

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, August 17.—Following is the weather forecast for the central United States.

The distribution of atmospheric pressure over the North American Continent and the adjacent oceans is such as to indicate temperatures near or below the average for the season during the coming week throughout the greater part of the country. A general moderation of the heat wave over the Central Valley, the Plains States and the Rocky Mountain region is probable during the first part of the week. The precipitation during the week will be local, but generally near the normal. Over the Great Central Valley, the Platte States and the Rocky Mountain region there will be frequent showers and thunderstorms the next several days, affording the eastward movement of a disturbance that will prevail the first part of the week over the Rocky Mountain region.

While the pressure is relatively low over the West Indies, there are indications of a disturbance in that region at the present time.

WILLINGLY AGREES TO GO TO NORFOLK

L. J. Jackson, Wanted for Larceny, Leaves New York in Company of Detective.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Norfolk, Va., August 17.—While a couple of sheriffs from West Virginia, one from North Carolina and one from New Jersey are in New York with ex-Governor of Norfolk detectives, came away from the Metropolitan Police station with their prisoner and now has him safely locked up in the Norfolk jail.

The prisoner is L. J. Jackson, and he is wanted here on the charge of the larceny of a diamond pin valued at $200. He arrived yesterday morning from New York on the old Dominion liner Hamilton, paid his own fare, and was accompanied by a free man on the ship. After the ship had docked at the Old Dominion wharf, he walked up Church Street, and the corner of Main and Church Captain Ford put his hand on Jackson's shoulder and placed him under arrest. He was locked up.

Although a requisition for Jackson's arrest had been signed by Governor Sulzer, the requisition had nothing to do, or at least very little to do, with the release of the prisoner to the Norfolk authorities. Captain Ford arranged to have Jackson tried before one of the police magistrates, and the case was brought to trial on the evidence was presented. Jackson was dismissed, and he walked out of the police station a free man.

There was but a few hours before the sailing of the Old Dominion steamer. Captain Ford had a talk with Jackson, advising him in part of the predicament in which the police were placed. Jackson told Captain Ford that he was anxious to go home and the sooner he got there the better he would like.

ALLEGED BANDIT TAKEN

Officers Believe They Have One of Men Who Engineered Hold-Up.

Birmingham, Ala., August 17.—Henry Ennis, alleged to be one of the two bandits that held up and robbed train No. 2 on the New Orleans and North-eastern Railroad on the night of May 14, 1912, and secured $92,000 from the Southern Express safe, was captured at 4:45 o'clock this morning, seven miles from Carbon Hill, in the western part of Alabama.

The arrest was made by a party of Birmingham detectives. Ennis was brought to Birmingham and lodged in jail here. He refused to make any statement, contenting himself with a general denial of the charges against him.

It should be fair to the farmer and allow him to have money based upon his assets and upon the same basis through which it is accorded to the banker and commercial farmer and wage-earner should not be overlooked, and will not be if they wake up and demand their rights."

The real battle over the currency bill will begin this week with the consideration of the measure in the House Democratic caucus, under which is known as the five-minute rule for amendments.

The principal amendments relate to the rediscounting of paper based on farmer's products. Democratic Leader Underwood and Chairman Glass, of the Banking and Currency Committee, are agreed upon the elimination of the words "and other securities" from the list of collateral resorted to by the Federal reserve board shall have the right to pass upon. They believe that this so-called "Glass-Underwood amendment" would sufficiently preserve the credit of paper based upon warehouse receipts, or otherwise secured agricultural products. Mr. Underwood is disposed, however, to accede to amendments that would make this matter more clear, if it develops they are necessary.

The administration leaders are confident the bill will go through without pressing for amendments to-night except equal confidence. Mr. Underwood would finally agree to the substance of their proposition for protection of agricultural paper. Most of
